Tweet the Apocalypse on Twitter!

On Twitter, you get 140 characters to answer the question: “What are you doing?” This sheet represents Your Twitter account.

Pretend you and your group are there, but at different locations for the beginning, middle, and end of your selected culture’s Apocalypse myth. Using the Twitter format, your group needs to tweet what's happening. You only get 140 boxes for 140 characters--that’s it; no more in which to tell the details of the “end of the world.” Be concise, but let the world know what YOU Witness, Experience, and how you React.
